

After the publication of my first novel, 'Bad Blood Rising,' I developed a thirst for writing. The characters I had developed in the book had much more to say and were demanding to be heard.

It was in the dark days of 2020 when I began writing my second book, 'More Bad Blood'. This book was difficult to write at first, mainly due to the fact I could not attend writing groups and get advice from fellow writers anymore. However, I struggled on and as the book progressed, I found the plot developing with more twists and turns. It was as if the characters had taken a life of their own. The end result is a cleverly constructed tale, leaving the reader wanting to know more about the character's destiny.

This is due in no small part to the final breath-taking chapter, where the reader is left demanding to know what happens next.

This book was released towards the end of 2020 and was an immediate success.
